RESIGNS AFTER
ELECTION VOTELloyd George Resigns With
Rest Of The Coalition
Government.TORY "DIE HARDS"
DEMAND ELECTIONAndrew Bonar Law Expected
To Be Named Premier's Successor.

London, Oct. 19.—The last of the great war statesmen went into eclipse today when Premier Lloyd George of England resigned together with the rest of the coalition government.

Lloyd George has been in power six years lacking a few weeks. He succeeded Herbert Asquith in December, 1916, when the great war was raging.

The premier presented his own resignation and those of the other members of the cabinet to King George this evening.

After buffeting the grave crises of the war and the troublesome peace era which followed and passing through the storms and strife of Ireland, the ministry succumbed at last to his enemies in the Unionist or conservative party. It fell under the blows of the Tories, supported by labor.

Events Move Rapidly

Political events moved with dramatic rapidity today. The Tory members of parliament, under leadership of the "die hards," met at the Carlton club and voted in favor of an immediate general election to create a new government and a new house of commons.

After the Tory conference today, the cabinet hastily met at 10 Downing street where about half a dozen undersecretaries and ministers, all members of the Unionist party, handed in their resignations. It was evident that the government had begun to crumble and was going fast.

The general resignation was drawn up and signed and shortly after 4 o'clock Lloyd George started to hold an historic interview with King George. The premier was in good humor. He showed no anxiety over his political fate.

Bonar Law May Succeed

Word was conveyed to Andrew Bonar Law, former chancellor of the exchequer, to hold himself in readiness to be summoned to the palace. This indicated that Mr. Law was to be Lloyd George's successor.

In the meantime it was announced from semi-official sources that Sir Robert Home, chancellor of the exchequer, Earl Balfour and Austin Chamberlain, all Unionists, had retired from their government posts.

Lloyd George told his friends that he is tired and wants a rest. War has been averted in the Near East and the Irish problem is out of the way and Mr. Lloyd George believes that the next premier will find it an easier job in the future than it has been in the past.

The biggest problems are taxation, meeting the American debts and German indemnity.

Lloyd George plans a long rest. He has long wished to visit the United States and may do so later on.

LUTHERANS HEAR

First Anniversary In Parish House.

An evening of goodfellowship was enjoyed at the parish house of the Emanuel Lutheran church on Broadway Wednesday evening, when members of the Lutheran men's society celebrated the first anniversary of the founding of their organization.

The affair was featured by a banquet and program of addresses, with Rev. B. E. Rutzky, pastor of the church, acting as toastmaster. Among the speakers were Rev. Edgar Egbert of Youngstown, who talked on "What Is Wrong With the World," and Rev. J. F. C. Soller of Youngstown, who lectured on "Der Lutherische Christ als Amerikaner." Supt. J. S. Allen of the public schools was also included on the list of speakers.

Refuse Injunction
On Charter Election

Youngstown, Oct. 19.—Petition to enjoin the Mahoning county election supervisors from holding a Youngstown city charter election was overruled by Judge David G. Jenkins in common pleas court today. The same ruling had previously been made by the election board. It was said the case will again be argued next week before the court of appeals now in session here.

Judge Jenkins ruled that a city ordinance calling the election for Nov. 7 referred to a special election even though not specifically designated a such.

FIGHT FOR BIGGER
ARMY TO BE WAGED
IN NEXT CONGRESSIncrease Of 25,000 Would Be Justified, Senator
Warren Says.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Gen. Pershing's appeal for an increase of 25,000 men in the size of the standing army will be the basis for a new "bigger army" fight in the next congress, Senator Warren, Republican of Wyoming, chairman of the senate appropriations committee, announced today.

Warren declared the increase would be justified as an "insurance against war" and to "prevent the terrible financial losses inflicted on this country at the outbreak of the World War." Warren declared legislation would be introduced enlarging the present army to 150,000 men and 13,000 officers.

The present standing army—125,000 men and 12,000 officers—has limited American military operations, according to Warren. He supported statements made by Secretary of War Weeks and Gen. Pershing, chief of staff, that the existing size did not provide sufficient men to form a nucleus for war-time army necessary should war break out.

The "bigger army" fight, according to all indications, will be successful in the senate but its fate in the house is uncertain. During the last session of congress, the army appropriation bill fixed the present limit only after the house had rejected larger figures. The senate originally passed the 150,000 men and 13,000 officers size but it was stricken out in conference when house leaders threatened to defeat the entire appropriation bill.

"Changes in modern warfare demand a larger standing army in our country," said Warren. "Chemical interests of national safety than at any previous time in the history of the world, machine gunnery, anti-aircraft forces, tank corps and aviation demand special trained men whereas in the old days it was only infantry, cavalry and artillery."

Boy Scouts To Place
Rotary Hut In Order

Boy Scouts of all troops in Salem who have no regular employment on Saturday are requested to assemble at the Stark Electric station at 12:45 p. m. Saturday armed with axes, large and small, saws and mauls for the purpose of accompanying Scout Commissioner Lee R. Chamberlain to the Rotary scout cabin on Lee Atkinson's farm west of town to put the cabin and grounds in order. Scouts who desire to hike to the cabin in the morning may do so.

The executive committee of Salem's second class Boy Scout council met Wednesday evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms with Regional Executive Joseph M. Butcher of Columbus to discuss plans for instituting a well defined program for scouting. The chief problem at present is to secure competent scout leaders and to provide for their training.

Cleveland, Oct. 19.—Admiral William S. Sims, whose fiery criticism of the policies of former Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels brought down upon his head a storm of criticism, was the guest of Cleveland City Club here today at luncheon.

Unusual interest attached to his speech here as it was his first public utterance following his retirement from the active list of the navy last Sunday.

Enlarged Work.CITY RECREATION
PROGRAM PLANNEDSubscriptions To Campaign
Next Week Will Make Plans Possible.

The Salem Council of Social Agencies will have its name changed to one that is more representative of the work it is doing. This announcement was made following an executive committee meeting of the council.

The work the council has been carrying on is that of education through recreation. It is proposed to enlarge the organization and also to put on a recreational program to provide recreation not only for the small group it has but for all Salem.

They aim to do this through the proper utilization of leisure time, to build physique, develop character and promote citizenship for boys and girls, young men and young women and to supply constructive activities under wholesome influence.

They propose to promote neighborliness, community spirit and civic harmony among the adult population. In order to carry out this program a man has been engaged from the Community Service Bureau in New York to assist in this work.

At a later date a recreational specialist will come here for a short time to instruct and prepare leaders for recreational and especially for playground work. The plan is to greatly enlarge the playground work here next summer.

Those in charge of the campaign to raise funds for the support of the civic organizations here have expressed the hope that residents of Salem will be liberal in their contributions to make possible the carrying forward of this community work. This campaign will be conducted next Wednesday and Thursday.

FLAMES DESTROY
LUNDY ST. SHOPJohn Wagner's Upholstering
Shop Burns Thursday Morning.

Fire originating from an oil stove almost completely destroyed an upholstering shop in North Lundy street near Fourth, owned by John Wagner, about 10:30 a. m. Thursday. The loss is estimated at $500.

Wagner, who had been working in the shop during the morning, was feeling ill and went into his home, which adjoins the shop, leaving the oil stove burning. Shortly afterward he noticed smoke coming from the building and within a few minutes the place was a mass of flames.

A large quantity of paint and varnish stored in the building provided fuel for the flames and when the fire department reached the scene the entire structure was ablaze. Fast work by the firemen prevented the flames from spreading to the house. Two streams of water were necessary to subdue the blaze.

Furniture in the building was removed by neighbors, while a large amount of materials used in upholstering were destroyed.

Twenty-three telephone subscribers were without service today as a result of the blaze burning telephone service cables above the shop. Due to the inflammable nature of the goods stored in the shop, the blaze reached the wires.

The service will likely be restored by Friday afternoon, it was stated by Manager Swaney.

Freshies Are Dolled Up In Earrings And Blue Shirts

Were Paul Poirer, the famous Parisian creator of styles, to have visited Salem this morning, his dignity would have been given a rude shock.

Styles that he never dreamed of in all his long career of fitting gentlemen in the very latest French creations, were on display for the early risers of the city this morning.

To the Freshman class of Salem High school goes the distinction of having given Paris something to talk about, for they were the originators (at the request of the Sophomores) of something entirely different in men's fashions.

The "hickory" shirt, long since discarded as an article of fashionable dress, came into its own this morning. "hickory" shirt, in terms of the language spoken by Sophomores, is none other than the old plain blue shirt. This was one of the features

Find Wise Old Owl
In House Awaiting
Call To Breakfast

The owl season evidently is open. A screech owl, doubtless envious of the wide publicity given to the six baby barn owls captured on the G. C. Greenstein farm Monday by Scoutmasters Harman and Lowell, last night gained entrance to the home of the latter and was found this morning perched in the dining room calmly awaiting the call to breakfast.

The wise little bird was exhibited to the school children in each room of the McKinney ave. school at the request of the principal, Miss Sharpnack, and was later added to the "scrappy family" bequeathed to the biology department of the Salem High school.

YOUTH CONVICTED
OF HORSESTEALINGJury Recommended Mercy
After Exonerating Companion.

The jury that heard the case of the State of Ohio against Harry McCoy and William Meador on a charge of horse stealing, returned a verdict last Wednesday afternoon finding Meador guilty and McCoy not guilty.

They had been jointly indicted and were tried together. Meador is crippled, walking on crutches, as the result of an accident some months ago when his ankle was broken.

The evidence in the case showed that last July Meador and McCoy and a third young man who has not been apprehended, were in the neighborhood of Teagarden, and desiring to go to Canton went to the pasture field of W. H. Cobb and took two horses. They also stole bridles from the barn nearby. They rode the horses to a point beyond Louisville, Stark county where they turned them into a field and abandoned them. The horse were discovered the next day.

McCoy was freed as it was found that he was not bright mentally and had been a tool for the other boys. Sentence has not been passed upon Meador. The jury recommended mercy for him, as it was apparent that no effort was made to sell the horses or keep them permanently.

CITY OPENS FIGHT FOR CAR SERVICE

East Liverpool, Oct. 19.—City council in a special meeting last night virtually completed plans to engage Fred Helm, Youngstown attorney, who has gained a reputation for his fights against corporations, to assist City Solicitor Perry L. Rigby in the attempt to force the traction company to operate its cars under the terms of the city franchise and the award recently given by the arbitration board.

This councilmanic step was taken after all of the members had signed a formal statement to the citizens of East Liverpool, in which they outlined the position they had taken in the controversy, and the main premises under which they sought to compel operation.

Consistent rumors have been circulated that the employment of additional counsel was the intention, but no confirmation was given until last night when the members met with Solicitor Rigby, who arranged to go to Youngstown this morning with members and interview the attorney before contracting for his services.

PROMISE UNIFIED
PHONE SERVICE IN
SALEM BY NOV. 1Manager Swaney Says Work
Of Cutting Over Lines
Is Nearing End.ASKS SUBSCRIBERS
TO REPORT TROUBLEManager Also Comments On Protest From Winona
Telephone Co.

Unified telephone service in Salem will be inaugurated Wednesday, Nov. 1, according to announcement Thursday by Frank Swaney, county manager of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

Work of cutting over the lines of the Ohio State Telephone Co. onto the switchboard of the Bell exchange is going forward rapidly now and this work will be completed by Saturday, Oct. 28. Two or three days will then be required to get the unified service in operation.

This work of cutting over the subscribers of the Ohio State to Bell service and at the same time giving them service frequently causes some trouble and the company has been receiving complaints of interrupted service.

Manager Swaney urges subscribers to let the company know quickly if their service is interrupted by this work. If they will call the chief operator they will get prompt response, he states.

In commenting on the complaint of the Winona Telephone Co. that a 19 cent toll call would be charged for service between Salem and Winona, Manager Swaney stated Thursday that the Winona company has not been denied service, but it is asked to pay for it.

The Winona line is an independent one, but the Bell company made two propositions to it for interchange of Winona service. Mr. Swaney states that the Winona company can provide free service to Salem and the Bell company will make arrangements to either place all Winona subscribers on the Salem exchange or provide a toll rate.

PROMISES BETTER
RAIL CONNECTIONSPennsy Assures Salem Of Better Service To Cleveland.

Assurance of better train connections on the Pennsylvania system between Salem and Cleveland was received Thursday morning by the Chamber of Commerce from J. K. Dillon, division passenger agent of the Pennsylvania system at Cleveland.

Local Passenger Agent H. P. Andrews first cooperated with the transportation committee of the Chamber of Commerce in attempting to secure better morning train service. In August on several occasions the train leaving Salem at 10:03 a. m. arrived in Alliance too late to make connections for Cleveland.

Mr. Dillon assures the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce that instructions have been issued to hold train No. 213 at Alliance until 11 a. m. if necessary for connection with train No. 9.

Agent Andrews at Salem will be notified whenever train No. 9 is running so late as to be unable to reach Alliance at 11 a. m. so that Pennsylvania patrons may be advised and can avoid inconvenience.

With the gridders who were on the injured list at the time of the game with the Goat Hills, back in condition, the locals expect to put a real team in the field again Sunday. A delegation of fans will accompany the squad to the scene of battle.

Gun-Toting

THE efforts of the United States Revolver Association to have the states enact a law along lines similar to the Capper bill, dealing with the open sale and possession of firearms, generally meets approval throughout the country. The various crime waves and similar occurrences are aided and abetted by the promiscuous sale of deadly weapons which goes on unchecked almost everywhere. Federal legislation, it is argued, cannot reach the subject and so long as "anybody can get a gun" the peril must continue.

Murder is frequent because one or both parties to an argument carry guns. The revolver is the devil's own instrument for the making of crime and criminals. Many persons are convinced that the need for firearms has passed, with the exception of police officers, persons handling large sums of money, or members of the army and navy. Making such a law legal through changing the constitution would lessen the number of crimes committed according to those favoring the law.

That our civilization has progressed so far that the carrying of firearms for protection ought not to be necessary goes without saying. That Ohio streets are safe enough make such a change in the constitution reasonable, however, may still be open to argument. If such a law could make murders more difficult it might be worth trying.

Incidentally the Detroit Free Press points out that "mixed with what is right are questions of expediency and practicability. A great mass of evidence, data and argument on the subject ought to be forthcoming. It is recognized that it is easier to draft legislation of this kind than it is to enforce it. If legislation can do anything toward abatement of miscellaneous target practice by potential murderers certainly it ought to be drafted."

Golden Rule Methods

IN a recent address delivered before the Chamber of Commerce in New York, Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, urged the doctrine of a square deal all around to combat vicious propaganda spread during and since the World war, and to ensure safety of society and promote the prosperity of the United States.

"I recommend," he says, "that those of us who occupy positions high in the business world should make certain at all times and in every way, whatsoever we do, that we treat our business associates right, that we treat our neighbors right, that we treat our employees right, and that we treat the public right. Then stand up for our own rights."

This certainly is sound doctrine, and to which every one can, or should subscribe.

Freshening Salt Water.

"Water, water, everywhere, nor any drop to drink!" is Coleridge's poetic phrasing of a cry that has come from the lips of the victims of a shipwreck ever since the first navigation of the sea. If the water of the ocean were drinkable, not only would an enormous outlay be spared to ship owners, but one of the greatest horrors of shipwreck would be abolished. Not long ago, it is reported, a method was discovered abroad whereby sea water can be made fit to drink. The water is forced under pressure through a filter consisting of the trunk of a tree about fifteen feet long. The water is driven lengthwise through the pores of the wood, and in three minutes, at the longest, issues from the end of the trunk in thin streams, and is found to be free from salt and suitable for drinking.

Big Tree Seedlings.

The big trees, or giant sequoias of California grow in the forests of the Sierras at various points in a range of about 250 miles. In the Tahoe forest, however, where the most northern grove of big trees is, there is almost no natural reproduction, and many persons have predicted that when the present mature trees die, the species will disappear from that region.

Some time ago, the forest service planted several acres of big tree seedlings in the Tahoe national forest, and these grew so well that later the service planted another large tract. If they are protected from forest fires these interesting survivals of a past botanical era may be kept alive for an indefinite time.

THE DIFFERENCE

There is a vast difference between saving money "THE SECURITY WAY" than investing it in the many "wild cat schemes" way.

In the one you are promised enormous returns and the possibility of disposing of your investment on a large margin. The return of your principal is never guaranteed except by the flowery words of the "silver tongued" salesman.

But, when you have money in THE SECURITY BUILDING & LOAN ASSOCIATION, 64 Main Street, you are always sure of your money and 5% interest and it is safeguarded by FIRST MORTGAGES on improved real estate.

Save your money with us.

SANITARY POTTERS TAKE STRIKE VOTE

Compromise Wage Offer Is Presented In Referendum Vote.

East Liverpool, Oct. 19.—Final instructions were sent yesterday by officials of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters to the 28 sanitary locals on the referendum ballot which will be held throughout this branch of the trade Friday, following the compromise offer made by manufacturers for a 10 per cent wage reduction in place of the 20 per cent previously asked.

Approximately 2,500 workers who voted overwhelmingly for strike on the former proposition are expected to cast ballots on the compromise. The voting will all be done on the same day, with the greatest total to be cast in Trenton and other eastern sanitary ware centers. Returns are to be made at the brotherhood headquarters here by Monday for the final count.

Executives of the union last night said that no new developments had arisen in the general ware situation yesterday at the regular weekly conference of the executive board. Discussions centered chiefly upon that manner of paying strike benefits, and decisions on individual cases. Practically every striking worker entitled to payments has received his check for the first two weeks benefits.

MISSING GIRL WAS HIRED MAN

When Margaret Davis, a 14-year-old Chicago school girl, disappeared her parents were convinced she had either been kidnaped or murdered. Frantic search for a week failed to locate her until a chance clue led to the discovery that, attired as a boy, she was the "hired man" on a farm near Roselle, Ill., where she was known as Dick Davis.

Voters To Get Tax Proposals, Ohio Court Says

Columbus, Oct. 19.—The supreme court late Wednesday affirmed the Franklin county court of appeals in dissolving the injunction granted by the common pleas court, under which Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith was restrained from submitting to the voters of Ohio Nov. 7 the taxation amendment to the state constitution.

The decision gives Ohio voters the right to vote on the tax classification and debt limitation amendments and assures their votes being counted. As the official form of the ballot had been certified by the secretary of state to county boards of election before the injunction was issued, the ballots were ready for submission to the voters during the period of litigation in almost all instances.

Had the injunction issued by Common Pleas Judge E. B. Kinkead been sustained by the higher courts the secretary of state would have been compelled to recall the amendment forms, though they were already printed or in process of printing.

The supreme court's verdict is a sweeping victory for Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith. The entire court concurred in the judgment and upheld the secretary of state on all points at issue. It held that the section of the second article of the constitution requiring signatures in ink is fully complied with if indelible pencil is used in signing names to initiative petitions.

September Ace High In Liquor Law Activities

Columbus, Oct. 19.—The month of September was ace high in enforcement activities, according to the report just given out by prohibition Director J. E. Russell. Youngstown led with total fines amounting to $17,300, or an average of $1,099 for each of the 17 prosecutions. All of the 17 cases at Youngstown were prosecuted in the court of common pleas and every dollar of the $17,300 assessed as fines has been collected. Cleveland reported the largest number of arrests—111—resulting in the same number of prosecutions, fines of $16,950, taxes of $23,295 and penalties of $17,553. Toledo had 39 arrests, 35 prosecutions, $8,350 assessed in fines, $28,999 as taxes and $21,135 as penalties. Cincinnati 36 arrests, 34 prosecutions, $16,950 fines, $23,295 taxes, and $17,553 penalties; Columbus 34 arrests, 25 prosecutions, $16,350 fines, $25,724 taxes, and $29,875 penalties. The total number of arrests during the month was 248, prosecutions 243, fines $88,850, taxes $117,196 and penalties $129,677.

The above figures, in my opinion, do not indicate more violations during the month but show that the force has been on the job and has had the cooperation and support of local enforcement agencies as well as the assistance of the public generally," says Director Russell.

The comparison in the figures, Director Russell points out, cast no reflections upon the agents or courts by and before whom these prosecutions were made, since the presentation of evidence by an agent constitutes the performance of his duty.

MOOSEHEART LEGION NO. 68 WILL HOLD A BAKERY SATURDAY AT THE SECURITY BUILDING & LOAN ASSOCIATION. 244a

English Newspaper Gives a Variety of Reasons Why the Animals Should Be More Popular.

It is difficult to understand why goat keeping has never attained wider popularity in England. In many other countries goats are looked upon as national assets, declares London Tit-Bits.

In addition to being inexpensive to buy, goats are exceedingly cheap to keep. Their milk is more rich, sweet and creamy than cow's milk, and, above all, the animals are entirely free from tuberculosis. The milk cannot, therefore, convey the dreaded plague to infants. It is estimated that 75 per cent of cows are infected with the disease.

A good goat can be bought for about $10. It should be kept tethered in a field or garden, where it will easily find food for itself, for goats eat almost anything in the way of grass and vegetables, provided they are clean. Thin porridge occasionally is also acceptable, while hay or grain may be given at regular intervals—say, three times a day. Even at this rate the cost of food for each goat should not be more than a few cents a day.

In unfavorable weather it is better to keep goats under cover. An excellent shed for this purpose can be made at home at a cost of about five dollars.

The annual yield of milk is about 250 quarts from each goat, and this is equal in food value to 400 pounds of butcher's meat. Milking must be done twice a day—in the morning and evening. There are occasions when goats, like cows, become dry, but by keeping two or more a regular supply should be maintained.

Goat's milk is especially suitable for all children, and is the best food for adult invalids who are compelled to take milk in its raw state.

Many people dislike goats because of an erroneous belief that they show their bad tempers in a forceful manner. While animals that are frequently annoyed and irritated naturally show resentment, goats which are cared for kindly and looked after properly are both docile and grateful.

Far From the Madding Crowd.
"I understand you are going to take a vacation."
"A vacation is what they call it," replied Senator Sorghum. "But what I am going to do is to get to some secluded spot where I can worry about a whole lot of things without being observed."

WHAT HE EXPECTED OF WIFE

Girl's Attitude Seems Unreasonable When These Few Small Things Were All He Wanted.

Beauty. Punctuality. Sweet temper. Economy. Trust.
And that she should be sound asleep when he came in.
And that he should not be questioned regarding the hour when he returned from poker parties.
Nor that she should make any comments regarding the strangeness of the fact that it was necessary to have onion sandwiches at poker parties.
And that she should spend such evenings as he played poker or stayed downtown or went to stag dinners with friends of the feminine sex.
That she should always understand that his flirtations were too mild for any uncalled jealousy on her part.
That it was quite a different thing for a man to be forgiven than for a woman.
And that he wouldn't have his wife make a fool of him as some wives he knew made of their husbands.
With these clear understandings at the start he knew that she would be very happy with him, for he would make her an ideal husband.
But he had been a little too previous.
She saw now why two other wives had divorced him.
And she saved time—by refusing to marry him!—Mary Graham Bonner in Judge.

MADE A HIT WITH STUDENTS

"Cafeteria Work" Was Something Which Evidently Had the Approval of the Entire Body.

A new school for boys in Terre Haute, Ind., is a very modern vocational school, with hand equipment, big athletic park and cafeteria. And the new students were much impressed by these facilities.
On the first day of school one of the new fellows watched a last year student make out his program, and it read: "Shop work, wood work, chemical laboratory work and forge work."
He studied it a little while and began writing. And this is what he wrote: "Band work, athletic work," and then he hesitated, studied for a long time and finished, "cafeteria work."

Electricity and Bullets.

At a rifle meeting in Switzerland it was discovered that the steel-jacketed bullets of the marksmen were swerved from their course by the influence of telegraph and telephone wires running alongside the range, says the Washington Star. Experiments were then made at Thun by placing four steel cables parallel with the range and about 40 yards distant from it and sending a current of 8,000 volts through them. The effect, it is said, was to turn the bullets so far from their course that the deviation amounted to 24 yards on a range of 260 yards. The bullets on being taken from the targets were found to be magnetized. Next, on an artillery range of 3,000 yards, the electro-magnetic influence was generated 200 yards in front of the targets and 40 yards to one side. The projectiles were swerved 14 degrees from a straight line.

A Doubtful Hit.

One sister in this Evansville family is a newspaper reporter and the other a school teacher. And the little teacher is much given to borrowing her sister's clothes. The good-natured reporter usually doesn't object, but the other day she felt her sister had gone too far when she wore her new silk dress and fall hat to school. She told her so, too.
"But I had heard the school board would be at the building today," the teacher excused herself, "and I wanted to make a hit with them."
"I bet you did," came back the dry retort, "for they all nearly went wild about that dress when I wore it to the school board meeting last night."—Indianapolis News.

Davy Jones' Toll.

Lloyd's Register of Shipping records the loss during the last quarter of 1921 of 99 steamers and 68 sailing vessels, representing 117,926 and 38,138 tons, gross, respectively. The causes are given as wrecked, foundered, collisioned, burned, missing, abandoned, lost and condemned.
Of this total 7 steamers, and 17 sailing vessels were of American register. Holland had no losses during the period under notice. Vessels under 100 tons are excluded from the return.

No Concentration.

"Would you call Mrs. Gadder an inquisitive woman?"
"Not unduly so, for a member of her sex."
"No?"
"After she has tried unsuccessfully for six months to find out the income of a neighbor something else is sure to attract her attention."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Confined to Prose.

"Do you know 'The Star-Spangled Banner' by heart?"
"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum; "but I'm not trying to use it in this campaign. Practical questions are becoming so complex that my constituents won't be satisfied to hear me sing or recite."

Periodic Physical Exams Is Business Man's Chief Asset

By DR. EMERY R. HAYHURST
Chief Division of Industrial Hygiene.
A leading life insurance company has recently shown that in a group of 6,000 persons who had physical examinations at intervals over a five-year period, there resulted only 250 deaths, whereas 420 was the expected rate for the group. The company states that on this specific group of people it had its principal returned and made a 200 per cent profit on the investment after deducting the expenses of physical examinations, which were made by the Life Extension Institute, New York City.

A physical examination to be worth while must include: (1) An inquiry by a regular physician, not a cultist or promoter of some fad in treatment, but one who was a High school graduate before he studied medicine and then took four to seven years training in a first-class medical school; (2) He should make a scientific inquiry into your past health and that of your family; (3) He should make a physical examination which requires stripping, and which will take at least 20 minutes; (4) There should also be a laboratory examination of the blood, water, and perhaps other things; (5) A teeth examination by a first-class dentist, and (6) perhaps an X-ray examination of the teeth, heart and lungs.

The value of the physical examination consists in getting solid advice on the prevention of diseases common to your period in life, and especially solid advice to you in relation to your personal condition with the object of attaining the progress of unfavorable findings, such as overweight, underweight, high blood pressure, weak heart, constipation, nervousness, and the like. Finally, to be thorough, you should go back for a check-up every six months to a year. By this plan it seems possible, as the insurance company demonstrated, to increase life expectancy over 50 per cent in a five-year period and at the same time to decrease medical bills and sickness with their disastrous effects upon current business.

The idea of the periodic physical examination is fundamentally "yours for health."

Tremaine-Hahn Bout Scheduled At Youngstown

Matchmaker Stambaugh, of the Youngstown Athletic club, has at last secured the signed contracts of Bernie Hahn, (Wheeling), and Carl Tremaine, the hard hitting Cleveland bantam, for the main bout of their show to be held Monday, Oct. 23.

The boys have been matched on numerous occasions, but for some reason or other, the match has never materialized. Hahn has a wonderful record in the past 10 years that he has never taken the count. He has battled on even terms with Pete Herman, Joe Lynch, Eddie and Phil O'Dowd, Jack Wolfe, and a host of top notch bantams.

Tremaine has been going like a house afire in his last few fights, and has been winning decisively from all opponents.

Both are anxious to meet each other, and it should prove one of the best bantamweight fights ever staged in this city.

WASH THE KIDNEYS IF THEY BOTHER YOU

Flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much meat and rich food may form uric acid, which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer irritates, thus often ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink.

LOCOMOTIVE NOW DIGS DITCH

Work Done is in Marked Contrast to the Old Days of Pick-and-Shovel Brigade.

The new method of digging a ditch alongside a railroad track is to hitch a kind of scoop to the front of a locomotive. By this means twenty miles of ditch can be plowed in one day at a cost of about $6.25 per mile.

The ditch can be thus dug three feet deep and fourteen feet from the center line of the track, the amount of dirt removed being eighteen cubic feet per lineal foot of ditch. The operation of the digging machine is controlled from the deck of the locomotive by air valves.

Contrasted with the old pick-and-shovel method, the locomotive ditch digger has achieved what, years ago, was regarded as a physical impossibility so far as speed is concerned.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Away Goes Eczema

Peterson's Ointment

"One day a druggist told me," says Peterson, "that Peterson's Ointment was the best remedy he sold for eczema. But you'll never make any money on it," he added, because it heals so quickly that only a little ointment is used." All druggists, 35c, 60c $1.00, $2.50, $5.00.

Community Cow.

The church-by-the-side-of-the-road in Greensboro, N. C., has a community cow, rented out at $1 a week to families who cannot afford to buy cows. The proceeds are being saved to buy other cows so that eventually there may be a community herd. The community cow was first placed with a family of six children. A. W. McAllister, one of the founders of the church-by-the-side-of-the-road, writes: "You should see how these children are blossoming forth. You can see the bloom in their cheeks, and the scales have a story to tell also. At least once a week our community nurse looks in on the community cow to see how she's and how she is being treated."—Survey.

CATARRH Quickly Ended by a Pleasant Germ-Killing Antiseptic

Into this halter pour a few drops of magical Hyomei.

This is absorbed by the antiseptic gauze within and now you are ready to breathe it in over the germ-infested membrane where it will speedily begin its work of killing catarrh germs. Hyomei is made of Austrian eucalyptus combined with other antiseptics and is very pleasant to breathe.

It is guaranteed to end catarrh, bronchitis, sore throat, croup, coughs and colds or money back. It cleans out a stuffed up head in two minutes.

INN HAS HISTORIC INTEREST

Hostelry on Long Island Sound a Place of Entertainment for Hundreds of Years.

One of the oldest and most distinguished hosteries in the United States is the Canoe Place Inn, between Shinnecock and Peconic bay, on Long Island Sound. The charter of this fine, old, rambling, red-brick structure was signed by Queen Anne, but the inn was doing a thriving business years previous to this. An interesting figure is the venerable figurehead of the frigate Ohio, which, after an honorable service, was displaced by the ironclad and finally broken up in the waters which was the cove. One of the most massive of existing figureheads, it was carved in Greece and presented, with much ceremony, to this government. It shows Hercules in impressive pose and was warranted by the Greek donors to possess magic gifts. One of the most valuable sets of registers to be found in this country is to be examined in Canoe Place Inn. Its famous autographs begin in 1659 with the mark of Wyandach, grand sachem of the Montauks, and include famous colonial governors, Manhattan, Dutch, Swedish and English, for two hundred years. The inn fell into the hands of the British authorities during the Revolutionary war and provided for the officers under Lord Howe and Sir Henry Clinton—as close an approach to a club as existed in those days in this part of the world.

WORK THAT IS IMMORTAL

Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" Long Acknowledged as Masterpiece.

The "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" was written by Edward Gibbon (1737-1794); it is universally acknowledged to be one of the greatest masterpieces of historical composition. The first volume was published in 1776, and had an immediate success. The second and third volumes appeared in 1781, and the final publication of the entire work in six volumes took place in 1788. The author's uncompromising hostility to Christianity, however, gave great offense to many readers, and was occasion of several attacks by English divines. Allison, the historian, declared the "Decline and Fall" to be the greatest historical work in existence. Gibbon's profit from the sale of his work was $6,000 ($30,000 normal exchange), that of his publisher, $90,000 ($300,000).

The author says: "It was at Rome, on the fifteenth day of October, 1704, as I sat musing amidst the ruins of the capitol, while the barefooted friars were singing vespers in the temple of Jupiter, that the idea of writing the decline and fall of the city started to my mind."

That Pesky Mosquito.

Imagination often works as an ally of mosquitoes in causing sleeplessness in summer. When the weary sleeper has tossed about the bed and exhausted himself slapping at the winged tormentor he pulls the sheet over his head and tries again for slumber. The pest may have fled, but in a moment the buzzing sound is heard again.

Half unconscious in sleep the victim holds his breath waiting for the mosquito to alight. The buzzing seems far off, but slowly gets nearer and nearer. Now fully awake he frees his arm from the entangling sheet and prepares to strike. Still the buzzing seems at a distance. He lies awake, every nerve tense, determined to make an end of his foe when it gets near enough.

Still the buzzing goes on. The victim sits up in bed the better to locate its source. Then all of a sudden the clang of a bell proves that he has been listening to the hum of a street car. He turns over and waits for the real mosquito's return.

Hoatzin Remarkable Bird.

Strange and weird as the adult hoatzin may be it is the young birds that really amaze us. For both thumb and forefinger are armed with sharp, recurved claws, better developed than in any other known bird, and, what is more important, they are entirely functional. William Beebe, director of the Tropical Research station in British Guiana, has done more than any other scientist to reveal the secrets of the hoatzin. He has found that this remarkable youngster uses its wing claws to haul itself about the rough nest in which it is hatched, and also to help in climbing about among the branches. Mr. Beebe has also described the strange ability of the naked fledgling to swim under water.

Football With a Golden Text.

Little Earl, aged three, lived near a certain college campus, and he was much excited last fall over the football games. One day he placed a football that had been given him between his sturdy legs and leaned over it as he had seen the center do. Then for a moment he was stumped. He knew that the players called out something before the ball was put into play, but he had no idea what it was. All he could think of was his Sunday school text; so he called out, "He ye kind to one another—go!" and gave the ball a vigorous punch.—Youth's Companion.

Eczema Vanishes In Few Days

Mighty, Powerful Antiseptic Prescription Stops Itching Instantly, and by Its Use Ulcers, Boils, Abscesses and Carbuncles are Quickly Healed

Now that tens of thousands know that Moore's Emerald Oil will reduce, dry up, dangerous varicose veins to normal, we want them to know that this wonderfully effective agent will dry up eczema eruptions in a few days and cause the scales to drop off and disappear.

It acts the same way with any skin disease, such as barber's itch, salt rheum, redness and inflammation; skin troubles.

So powerful and penetrating is Moore's Emerald Oil that piles are absorbed; goitres and wens are made to disappear and abscesses, boils, carbuncles, ulcers and open sores are healed in a few days. Moore's Emerald Oil is not a patent medicine, but is a surgeon's prescription that for years has been successfully used in private and hospital practice. J. H. Lease Drug Co., and all pharmacists dispense it, and complete directions for home use come with each bottle.

Chicago—Correctly attired men in the future will wear trousers with a corset effect. Pliable belts permanently attached to the sides of the trousers draw around and fasten in front, the back being unsupported. Coats also made corset style and top coats with fancy yokes are to be popular.

This bull is also three-fourths brother to "Count" whose daughters have broken over 100 world's records.

FEDERAL EXPENSES BEING KEPT WITHIN INCOME THIS YEAR

Administrative Branch Is Operated At Saving Of $50,000,000.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Government expenses so far this fiscal year have been kept within government income. Treasury receipts up to Oct. 15 were announced today as amounting to $958,969,999 and expenditures $850,600,000. General expenditures for the operation of the administrative branches of the government have dropped about $50,000,000 below last year and have amounted to about $760,000,000 since the fiscal year began.

Government payments on account of both the railroads and the shipping board have decreased since last year until the accounts of the shipping board show expenditures of only $14,600,000, a decrease of about $40,000,000.

Payments to the railroads during that period have amounted to $25,000,000, about $5,000,000 less than last year.

Customs revenues have been running about $60,000,000 ahead of last year's totals and this accounts in part for larger receipts.

Hard-Fisted Fielder.

An outfielder of the Los Angeles team in a recent game with San Francisco collided with the fence in making a wonderful catch and was knocked unconscious, and when he was carried to the clubhouse the ball was in his hand in a vise-like grip. Most managers would be satisfied if their players would clutch the ball like that when they are conscious.

LEGAL NOTICE

To the Electors of Perry Township School District.

Notice is hereby given that a proposition to levy an additional tax, over and above the maximum authorized by Sections 5619-2 and 5619-3 of the General Code of Ohio, for school purposes, is submitted to the qualified electors of the School District of Perry Township, at the general election, November 5, 1922.

Said levy is declared by the Board of Education of the said School District of Perry Township to be necessary, because, by the use of all authority allowed under the limitations of law, a period not to exceed five (5) years, is insufficient for the successful operation of said School District's schools.

The question to be decided is whether or not a levy of not exceeding three (3) mills, additional to that authorized under the limitations, shall be made for a period not to exceed five (5) years.

Georgia Candidate's Defeat Due To Klan

Washington, Oct. 19. — Defeat of
Gov. Thomas W. Hardwick of Georgia in his ambition to come to the United States senate as successor to the late Sen. Thomas E. Watson is attributed to the Ku Klux Klan and the labor vote by well posted Georgians, who are in Washington.

The primary yesterday resulted in a decisive victory for Judge Walter F.
George over Gov. Hardwick, second candidate in a field of four Democratic aspirants. The paper which Sen. Watson owned to the time of his death supported Judge George.

Incidentally, the Georgia primary is expected to have considerable effect in removing Gov. Hardwick as a factor in that state's politics for some time to come.

Only a few weeks ago he was badly beaten in his race for renomination as governor.

one whose auditory nerve is not entirely destroyed to hear as perfectly as one whose hearing is normal. To test it thoroughly they sent it to a number of people who had been deaf for years and they report most gratifying results. Many state that they hear the slightest sound with perfect ease and that their natural hearing has been greatly improved.

The manufacturers are so proud of their achievement and so confident that every deaf person will be amazed and delighted with it, that they offer to send it to any one by prepaid parcel post on ten days' free trial. They do not ship C. O. D., nor do they require any deposit, but send it entirely at their own risk and expense, allowing the user ten full days to try it and decide whether they want to keep it or not. As there is no obligation whatever, every one who is troubled with deafness in any form should take advantage of this liberal free trial offer. Just send them your name and address for descriptive literature and free trial request blank.

SUPREME COURT IS AGAIN IN SESSION

POWERFUL AND AUGUST BODY RESUMES WORK AS USUAL WITH LITTLE CEREMONY.

TAFT PLANS IMPROVEMENTS

Chief Justice During Recent Visit to England Obtained Ideas for Expanding the Business of the Country's Highest Tribunal.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY

Washington.—The 132d session of the Supreme court of the United States opened Monday, October 2. There was nothing spectacular about the opening—there never is. The chief justice and the eight associate justices who make up the court, in accordance with long-established custom, made a courtesy call on the President Monday afternoon and then went to work. No body of men in the world is more powerful, none more awe inspiring, none more bound by custom and tradition, and probably none more enlightened and progressive in action.

The decrees of the court can annul the will of the President of the United States, of the congress, and of even the people themselves. The men who made the Constitution intended it should be so. It always has been so and doubtless will continue to be so as long as the republic endures. Every decade since the court was established has produced critics of the court. Within the last few months the demand made at frequent intervals down through the years that the powers of the court be restricted has been renewed by men who call themselves progressive statesmen, but these recent criticisms, like the criticisms that have gone before, have not apparently weakened the standing of the court with the people in the slightest degree.

The court itself is of the opinion that in some respects its method of transacting business might be improved. Its wheels grind slowly, and from time to time there is complaint, much of it undoubtedly well grounded, that the business before the body should be expedited.

Chief Justice Taft Has Ideas.

William Howard Taft, former President of the United States, who is now chief justice of the court, is in sympathy with this criticism, and during the present session of the court will submit to the associate justices certain recommendations which, if carried out, would, he believes, cure some of the shortcomings complained of. During the last summer Chief Justice Taft visited England and made a careful study of the high courts there. He brought back with him some ideas which will, it is understood, in due time be introduced in the routine affairs of the court. The court is never abreast with its work.

The personnel of the court is a subject of never ending interest to the American people. Since the court adjourned in June, one change in its personnel has taken place. Associate Justice John Hessin Clarke of Cleveland retired and George Sutherland of Salt Lake City, a former United States senator, was appointed to fill the vacancy. It is an interesting fact that the present chief justice while President appointed four associate justices and promoted an associate justice to be chief justice of the court.

The court is now composed of William Howard Taft of Ohio, chief justice; Joseph McKenna of California, Oliver Wendell Holmes of Massachusetts, William R. Day of Ohio, Willis Van Devanter of Wyoming, Mahlon Pitney of New Jersey, James Clark McReynolds of Tennessee, Louis Brandeis of Massachusetts and George Sutherland of Utah, associate justices. No member of the court is under sixty years of age. Chief Justice Taft was sixty-five in September, McKenna seventy-nine in August, Holmes eighty-one in March, Day seventy-three in April, VanDevanter sixty-three in April, Pitney sixty-four in February, McReynolds sixty in February, Brandeis will be sixty-six this coming November and Sutherland was sixty last March.

Holmes an Interesting Personality.

Perhaps there is more popular interest in Associate Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes than in any other member of the court, not excepting the chief justice. Justice Holmes is a son of Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, the poet and essayist. Recently he has been somewhat feeble, but apparently he has no thought of retiring, although he has long been eligible to retirement. Holmes was a soldier in the Civil war. He entered the Twentieth Massachusetts volunteers in 1861, and served throughout the war, retiring a brevet colonel. He was shot through the breast at Balls Bluff, through the neck at Antietam, and in the heel at Marye's Heights, Fredericksburg.

President Harding on the recommendation of Charles Evans Hughes, secretary of state, recently designated Associate Justice Day as umpire of the commission that is to handle the claims which American citizens have against Germany. There has been more or less talk to the effect that on account of this appointment or designation Justice Day will shortly retire, but if he has this in mind he has not communicated it to the public. He is eligible to retire for age and service as is Justice McKenna.

FARMERS INSTITUTES SPEAKERS ANNOUNCED

Four Will Be Under State Supervision, Six Are Independent.

Ten farmers' institutes will be held in Columbiana county during December and January. Four of these events will be under state supervision, and six will be independent events.

Institutes to which the state will send speakers will be held at East Rochester, Centralized school, Columbiana, Winona and Clarkson.

The independent institutes will be held at Homeworth, Damascus, Hanoverton, Unity, New Waterford and Bethel church in Yellow Creek township.

The institute at East Rochester will be held Dec. 18-19, and the state speakers will be Wheeler J. Welday and Miss F. Gertrude Akins, the first day, and R. E. Taber the second day.

At the Fairfield institute, which is scheduled for Dec. 22-23 Mr. Welday will talk the first day and Miss Akins and C. W. Waid the second day.

Winona institute has been scheduled for Jan. 3-4 and at this institute Mrs. Grace Reuwee and Mr. Welday will talk the first day. The second day has been left open for the discussion of local problems.

The Clarkson institute has been scheduled for Jan. 5-6 and the same speakers who have been assigned to the Winona institute will speak at Clarkson. No state speakers have so far been assigned for the second day at Clarkson.

Mr. Welday is a resident of Smithfield, Jefferson county, was born and grew up on a Jefferson county farm. He is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan, and after a year's post graduate work at Harvard, went to Purdue university where he spent four years as a student and teacher. He then went back to the farm and is most successfully bringing into bearing a 60-acre apple orchard.

His subjects include, "Poultry Pointers," "Soils and Bacteria," "Farm Records," "Horticultural Hints," "Farming, a Business," "Hill Farming," "To the Boys and Girls," and "The Full Farmer."

Miss F. Gertrude Akins, of Columbia Station, Lorain county, is farm born and reared. She is a graduate of Baldwin-Wallace university, from which institute she received her master's degree. For many years she was connected with her Alma Mater as teacher of history and social science, and as dean of women. During all these years she kept in touch with the farm and for several years has given her entire time to the management of the homestead of 250 acres.

The list of subjects from which Miss Akins will select her addresses in this county include:

"A Woman's Duty as a Citizen," "The Social Activities of the Farmer's Wife," "What the School Laws Make Possible for the Rural Child," "How Can We Influence Social Life of Our Young People?" "The Child of Today, the Citizen of Tomorrow," "Some Present Day Problems and How to Meet Them," "Dress Forms and Reforms," "The Relation that Proper Feeding has on the Normal Development of the Child."

Mrs. Grace Reuwee of Burton, is a farm woman who has been an inspiration to an ever-widening circle of acquaintances. Her consuming interest in the affairs of the farm and home and family, and her unselfish labors for community betterment have given her high standing in her community.

Mrs. Reuwee will select her subjects for her talks in this county from the following list:

"Getting the Most Out of Life," "The Farm Wife," "What Is Economy?" "The Self-sustaining Home," "Woman's Place in the Community and Farm Bureau," "Personal Responsibility in All Relationships," "School as a Business," "Seeing, We See Not."

R. P. Taber of the College of Agriculture, Columbus, was born on a farm where he spent his early years in general farming and dairying. He was for three years foreman on the Otsego (N. Y.) County farm and then went to the Massachusetts Agricultural college, from which he was graduated with the degree of B. S.

He is now farm management demonstrator in the extension service in the Ohio College of Agriculture. The list of subjects from which Mr. Taber will select his addresses for the Columbiana county institutes include the following:

"Are the Farms of Ohio Increasing or Decreasing in Size, and Why?" "How to Keep Costs and How to Use Them?" "Who Arranged My Farm Fields? Would He Do It the Same Way Today?" "Do I Keep My Live-stock, or Do They Keep Me?" "Planning the Farm Business for My Location and Conditions," "Price Changes—Their Significance to the Farmer," "Here Is the American Farmer's Market? What Do We Buy From Foreign Countries and Sell to Them?" "Account-keeping for the Busy Farmer and Its Use to Him."

C. W. Waid of Columbus, who will speak at the Fairfield institute, is a recognized authority along horticultural lines. He was formerly connected with the Ohio Experiment station. Later he was connected with the extension service of the Michigan College of Agriculture, and it is largely because of his efforts that that state has made such a record in growing standardizing, and marketing potatoes.

Mr. Waid is now employed by the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation to organize the fruit and vegetable growers of the state, and assist them in their marketing problems.

The four subjects Mr. Waid has announced for Columbiana county include: "Organizing to Sell Fruit Cooperatively," "Economic Production and Efficient Marketing of Ohio Apples," "Better Seed Potatoes," "Economic Production and Efficient Marketing of Potatoes."

Officers of the four state-aid institutes are:

East Rochester—President W. O. Bowers, Bayard; secretary, Frank L. Hines, Bayard; correspondent, Mrs. Fred Pinn, R. F. D. No. 1, East Rochester.

Fairfield—President, Dallas Sittler, Leetonia; secretary, J. H. Edgerton, Columbiana; correspondent, Mrs. E. M. Farmer, Leetonia.

Winona—President—W. G. Edgerton, Hanoverton, R. F. D. No. 1; secretary, Miss Mary Moore, Salem, R. F. D.

Clarkson—President, Denver Williams; East Liverpool Route 1; secretary, James Veness, East Liverpool, Route 1; correspondent, Miss Florence Gaston, Clarkson.

Green Dye From Corn Cobs. Science has found a way of utilizing all corn cobs, short or long, in the manufacture of various chemicals. As the corn cob consists of cellulose, which is valuable for the making of many products, such as celluloid and paper, it is considered desirable to save the substance of the cob. The furfural, therefore, is taken from the extract which is obtained by boiling the cob in water and the cellulose can thus be kept for other purposes.

This liquid is employed for many purposes in industrial chemistry, and can be so treated that it will yield a bright green dye, which is much liked by women of fashion, says the Detroit News.

A SILENT MEMBER

By MOLLIE MATHER

(© 1922, Western Newspaper Union.)

Patience took stock of herself, contentedly.

"If there was just one thing that I could do perfectly," she thought, "As it is, I'm an indifferent musician, a fair—well, hardly fair typist and I can plan or create dresses much better than I can sew them."

Wistfully she repeated her thought to her busy sister Rosalind, when Rosalind came in from the music classes. Absently, her mind on the dull pupils she had left, the sister made answer.

"Don't worry your head, Patty; you will come into your own, some day." "And in the long wait," Patience replied, "I'm afflicted upon you, Rosalind. Because your friends are as generous as yourself, is really no reason that I should burden the—firm."

A laughing face appeared in the doorway of the little flat. "Firm?" repeated the newcomer, "what a pretentious name for three unreasonably ambitious students."

Beatrice came into the room. "Dearest girl," she seriously addressed Patty, "you are the silent member of our firm; we just couldn't get along at all without your bright presence. You are the flower in the desert, the courage in despair. Is dinner ready? Lucy May grows slower every day."

Patty jumped up from theavenport. "I'll see," she offered.

Lucy May in the small kitchen said: "No, dinner ain't ready."

Patty was placing the cloth for the evening meal. "I am trying to hurry things up," she promised.

"I have been speaking at the Y. W.," Beatrice explained, "and I have a talk at the high school this evening. I am sure I do not know how I shall ever get my notes in order for the talk at the federated clubs tomorrow. And then there is my blue satin, in woolen need of pressing—"

"Oh, I'll do that for you," Patty called. She was putting the roses on the table. "Dinner ready," she cheerfully announced.

"How," asked Beatrice at table, "went the classes today, Rosalind?" "The Baldwin children," Rosalind answered—"and of course my most desirable pupils from a financial standpoint, are at times, almost impossible."

Breezily, Nan, the ever late, entered. "I have designed a perfectly wonderful dress for Mrs. Rich Compt," she began enthusiastically, "but there is a detail about the front panel which does not please her. We almost came to blows, regarding lines. I deserted, making dinner a pretense for departure, but tomorrow I shall have to go over the whole thing again."

The flat vacated that evening, the busy friends going on to various affairs that claimed their presence. Patience, humming her gay little song, examined carefully Nan's drawing of the disputed creation. Then, happily, Patty smiled, while her sure fingers traced a copy. The panel referred to was undoubtedly improved in the effort. Beatrice had left her notes of tomorrow's talk in a confusing pile on her dresser. Patty attacked them, a frown of perplexity wrinkling her pretty brow. The typewriter was humming, when a dark head appeared in the doorway.

"I will be very good, and read my paper in quiet," begged a masculine voice, if you will let me come in. Patty. You are, I see—" the man smiled, "dining as usual. Where are the celebrities?"

"Sit down, David," the girl carelessly invited, "I'll be through with this, in a moment. It's coming out fine."

"Whatever is it?" David remarked inquiringly, but he was not informed. Beatrice's notes, neatly labeled, were in her club book, when Patty returned to the room.

"You will be glad to be alone for another little minute, won't you, David," she asked tentatively, "while I—I have something to press in the kitchen?"

"Of course," he answered. Apologetically she seated herself before the telephone stand.

"I thought," she explained, "it might be better to give the message this evening, so I could have the children over early—just after Rosalind goes out. She gives a few home lessons in the morning, and the Baldwin children are difficult, David. They just must not spoil the musical; and their mother must be pleased, and proud of them. I can make the drill song a sort of game. You know I am not expert in music, David—or in any other thing."

Patty's voice was momentarily doleful. But only momentarily. "I will have those children, enjoying that drill," she enthused. "You'll see, David." Sighing in relief, she looked back at him, as she arose.

"It is settled," Patience said, "the Baldwin children will be here in the morning. Now that is a secret, and you are not to tell. I, you know, am the silent partner of our otherwise gifted firm—of four."

Very deliberately the man folded his paper, then, before Patty could realize what had happened, he had her in his arms.

"And I am looking for a silent partner myself," he said after a happy silence. "Patty, darling, there is no use your trying to refuse me; the husband of our firm will be an appreciative member—"

"I'm not thinking of refusing," said Patience demurely.

First View of Ships.

One of the great disappointments to tourists from the middle west or other inland sections on their first visit to New York is the size of ocean-going vessels. The ships are exceedingly small to them, remarks a New York Sun writer.

A trip to the waterfront and harbor generally is the first on the itinerary of a visitor who is paying his initial visit to a seaport. If the first ship encountered happens to be a loaded freighter of 10,000 to 14,000 tons, with its top deck scarcely more than six or eight feet above the water they register amazement that such a craft could negotiate the open sea.

Even a close-up view of a 22,000-ton passenger liner fails to come up to their idea of what a real ship should look like. The ships don't measure up to the impressions first gained through the pictures and lithographs back home.

Nail Facts.

Finger nails grow faster in summer than in winter.

This is only one of many curious facts about nails. For instance, the nails on your right hand grow faster than those on your left, and no two nails grow at the same speed.

The average time each nail takes to reach its full length is four and a half months, and at this rate a man of seventy will have renewed his nails one hundred and eighty-six times.

Taking the length of each nail as half an inch, he will have grown 7 feet 9 inches of nail on each finger, and on all his fingers and thumbs the total growth will be 77 feet 6 inches.

Wonderful for Sick Stomachs

Everyone who tries it willingly acknowledges that it does cure indigestion, and certainly banishes dyspepsia and other Stomach distress almost instantly.

Read this letter from Wm. Starkey, Rock Creek, Ohio:

"I was sick for several years, went to hospital after getting no relief from doctors and many remedies that I tried. Unable to work, and confined to the house, I was advised to try Doctor Orth's Stomach Remedy. I had no faith in anything any more, but I tried it and to my happy surprise it did me good. I am now perfectly well and for six months have been working every day in the blacksmith shop, eating everything I want and in perfect health."

It is with pleasure that I recommend Dr. Orth's Stomach Remedy.

Money back if Dr. Orth's Stomach Remedy does not do what we say it will, and remember that this remarkable remedy is the prescription of a practicing physician who used it with great success in exactly such cases as yours during a period of 60 years.

Murderer's Plea For Pardon Is Without Parallel

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 19.—A plea for a pardon without a parallel in American prison history was made late Wednesday afternoon before the state pardon board here in behalf of John Edwards, former Johnstown policeman, who has served 12 years of a life sentence in the Western penitentiary at Harrisburg for wife murder.

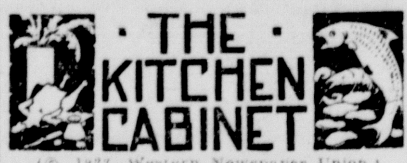

Edwards killed his wife in Johnstown in 1910. The inside story or reason for the slaying has never been revealed until now.

At his trial, now charged with first degree murder, Edwards pleaded guilty. "I killed her; do with me as you please," he told the court.

He was to have been executed but later his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. His brief story of the killing is told in deposition to the pardon board and follows:

"I came home one night after drinking pretty much and I caught them. It was not the first time. My son-in-law and my wife had beaten me severely before and this night I was determined that the practice would stop. "I can't remember much of the killing but I know I killed her and he ran away. Because of my daughter I didn't tell the story before, I could not let her know.

"The day I was sentenced I made up my mind to die with the story of

"O trust ye-aye in Providence, For Providence is kind, And bear ye a' its changes, W' a calm and tranquil mind. Though pressed and hemmed on every side, Ha' faith and ye'll win through, For like blade of grass has its own drop of dew."

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS

It is necessary to plan our meals, if possible, a week in advance, if we furnish our tables with a variation from day to day.

Banana Soup.—Select six ripe bananas and rub them through a sieve, adding twice as much cold milk by measure as bananas, sweeten to taste, add a pinch of salt, the grated rind of a lemon and place it on the stove. When the boiling point is reached add two tablespoonsful of cornstarch, mixed smooth in a little cold milk and stir into the boiling mixture. Cook for eight minutes, stirring all the time. Remove from the heat, cool, add two tablespoonsful of strained lemon juice. Serve well chilled in bouillon cups.

Parisian Peas.—Melt two tablespoonsful of butter in a saucepan, add a quart of green peas, mix well, then pour in enough boiling water to barely cover them. Add salt, pepper, the heart of a head of lettuce, finely minced, one-half of an onion minced fine and a sprig of parsley, also minced. Simmer until the peas are tender, then stir in the yolks of two eggs, well beaten, after taking from the heat. Return to the heat and keep hot, but do not allow the eggs to curdle.

Chicken Baked in Cream.—Clean and prepare a fowl for frying. Roll the pieces in seasoned flour and place in a heated pan with three tablespoonsful of butter. Sprinkle well with salt and pour a cupful of cream over the chicken. Cover and place in a hot oven to bake until tender. Remove and cover before taking from the oven and brown the chicken. Serve with a highly seasoned sauce.

Nut Sauce for Ice Cream.—Boil until it threads, a pound of maple sugar and one-third of a cupful of water, add one-half cupful of almond or walnut meats, coarsely chopped, and serve hot poured over vanilla ice cream. Maple-syrup may be used with brown sugar if the maple sugar cannot be obtained.

Green olives, grapefruit, tomatoes, the banana—these were once practically unknown to Americans, whose taste for them had slowly to be cultivated.

"In 'Food Products From Afar,' E. H. S. and H. S. Bailey suggest that several other fruits from Central and South America may yet become well known. One is the white sapone, which has a sour-bitter flavor, like grapefruit, but a smooth, custard-like texture, and is enthusiastically liked by many northern visitors. Experiments indicate that Florida and California can produce it. The chayote is immensely liked in South America and the West Indies, while in Brazil the grape-like fruit of the jaboticaba tree is a favorite.

But it would appear that Americans miss more than to not know the Brazilian custard-apple or sugar-apple than anything else. "It occurs in creamy flakes," say the authors, "which seem to separate into segments. When eaten, it melts in the mouth and carries the flavor both of the pineapple and the banana. Some varieties have a flavor suggesting clotted cream with sugar, and the odor of rose-water."

Cincinnati—When a taxi driver inquired Mrs. Rachel Reynolds she hit him in the face with a hot huckleberry pie she was carrying home from a bakery. She later appeared in police court, securing a warrant for his arrest.

ADDITIONS TO FRUIT SUPPLY

Belief That Central and South American Products Might Be Grown in This Country.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

LETTER MAY BE RECALLED

Post Office Department Regulations Make Provision for Withdrawal From the Mails.

Have you ever written a letter, mailed it in a corner box or in your local postoffice and then changed your mind? asks a Postoffice department bulletin. Have you ever lain awake all night wishing you had the letter back again and thinking that, having once mailed it, there was no chance of recalling it?

If you have had such an experience don't let it worry you in the future, for under the postal laws and regulations it is a comparatively easy matter for you to get the letter back into your own hands.

All you have to do is to go to your local postmaster and explain to him that you want to withdraw your letter from the mails. The postmaster must comply with your request, providing you can furnish proofs that you are the sender of the missive. These proofs consist of giving an accurate description of the letter you wish to get back as well as presenting to the postmaster a sample of your handwriting, which must be identical with that on the original letter.

The rules of the Postoffice department also permit postmasters to telegraph to the railway mail clerk and get him to take a recalled letter out of a mail pouch after it has left the city on the way to its destination. This measure to secure the return of a letter is only taken, however, in extreme emergencies.

DOG TAUGHT TO STEAL SHEEP

Intelligent Collie Made His Master Rich Until the Trick Was Discovered and Stopped.

At one time sheep stealing was a capital offense in England, and many men were hanged for it. The records show that the most successful of these rogues owed their prosperity to the faithful dogs which they had trained for the purpose. In one case a notorious criminal practiced sheep stealing on a large scale. Whenever charged with the offense, he was able to prove an alibi.

Here is the explanation. When sheep were for sale he would view them as a prospective purchaser, taking his dog with him. The dog carefully noted the individual sheep handled by his master. Man and dog would then depart. Later in the day, or during the night, the dog was sent back to the flock. In an incredibly short time the collie sorted out the selected sheep— from ten to twenty out of a flock numbering hundreds—and drove them away to a spot where he knew his master would be.

Ancestry of Birds.

Evolutionists believe that man arose from the basic stock that produced the apes. The ancestry of birds can be retraced still further to none other than the lowly reptile. Fossil birds, which we must look for our evidence, are almost as scarce as fossils of extinct reptiles and mammals have been preserved for us in abundance, but the very power of flight, which raised the bird above its reptilian ancestors, has done much to cheat us of avian remains. Cumbrous, awkward creatures, without this magic gift, chance caught in sticky pitch or the treacherous mud of some lagoon, are unable to escape its grip. But the light-bodied, quick-winged bird is seldom trapped in such a way.

Chinese Idea of Goldfish.

It is said that there is a universal belief among the Chinese that the finer kinds of goldfish are raised from the eggs of the silk moth. According to the belief of the Chinese the silk moth lays its eggs on a fresh brick or tile, and this is placed in shallow water and exposed to the sun. In several days, they hatch out minute larvae and are fed on pond slime, developing rapidly into gorgeous goldfish.

Great care has to be used in the preparation of the water, but the process may be aborted by an intervening thunderclap, which sometimes makes such havoc with the eggs that they hatch out frogs or scorpions instead of the much desired goldfish.

Assuring Real Holidays.

A very interesting and important decision of the British courts is that a wife may take a holiday alone, if she desires, and that her husband cannot stop her.

It was born of a case following twenty-one years of reasonably calm marriage. The wife decided on a vacation of a week without the company of hubby. He forbade it. She made an unexpected and astonishing appeal to the court and she won her case.

And because the husband made any objection whatsoever she now sues him for a permanent separation and secures it—just for that like that.

Insects That Sing.

Japanese do not care for cats and oriole is a singing insect, which is kept in a cage that hangs from the eaves of the house.

Although the little creature does not perform on all occasions, the sound of rain will at any time start him chirping. So, to amuse strangers in a Jap home, one of the family will go on to the roof and pour down a bucket of water to produce the dripping sound of rain.

As soon as the singing insect hears what he imagines to be the real thing, he begins to warble.

HARDING, FEDERAL RESERVE HEAD TO LOSE APPOINTMENT

President Is Facing New Troubles Over Naming His Successor.

Washington, Oct. 19. — President Harding has finally decided not to reappoint William P. G. Harding as governor of the federal reserve board, it was learned today from administration sources.

With Gov. Harding eliminated from further consideration, the president was reported facing a new row over the naming of his successor. A strong following within the administration ranks, it was learned, has urged the appointment of a Democrat to succeed Gov. Harding, who went into office as an Alabama Democrat under former President Wilson. The naming of a Democrat would halt all charges that politics actuated the removal of Gov. Harding.

The two men reported "most acceptable" to all conflicting interests and who are said to find favor with President Harding are Edmund Platt of New York, present vice governor of the board and D. R. Crissinger, of Ohio, the controller of the currency. Crissinger was said to have the "inside track" because of his former political affiliations with the Democratic party.

The president's decision to drop Gov. Harding and the name of his successor will be made public as soon as congress reconvenes in November, it was said. The nomination of either Crissinger or Platt is not expected to meet with opposition in the senate where both men enjoy a host of friend ships.

The dropping of Gov. Harding will represent a victory for American farmer organizations over banking interests. Opposition to Gov. Harding's rule of the government's financial system and protests against his reappointment began as soon as President Harding came into office, coming principally from agricultural sources.

MILES AND MINUTES

THE Atlantic cable is approximately 3500 miles long. Yet, to the newspapers, London is only a few minutes from New York. Your paper tells you about happenings in the Old World within a few hours of their occurrence. For newspaper enterprise has reduced those miles to minutes.

How far back we would go without newspapers! We would remain in ignorance, not only of events at home and abroad—but also of much that concerns us even more vitally—news of the things that have to do with our personal, every-day lives.

Every day new things appear—new products that save time, labor and money are introduced—new comforts, new conveniences and new ideas are continually being worked out and offered for your benefit.

The advertisements bring you news of all this progress. They tell you all about these things, where to get them, how to get them and how much to pay for them. The advertisements are daily directories to wise buying.

Read the advertisements. Protect yourself in your buying, by getting the products which have proved their worth by making good under the spotlight of consistent publicity.
